Hard at work in the Numeracy Hub.

Dear Parents,

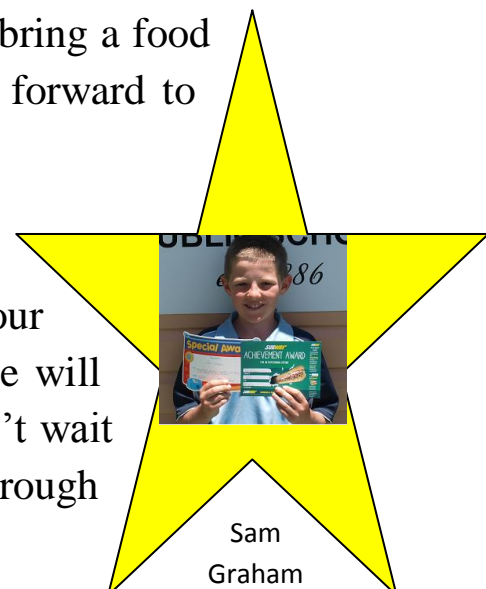

What a scorching few days we have had over the last week! Summer is definitely around the corner and with the heat there comes responsibility. All students need to ensure that they have a Bongongo Public School hat with their name clearly labelled as well as a drink bottle and sunscreen. Students without a hat will be playing under the shaded area of the COLA or in the sandpit/playground area. In days of extreme heat, all students will be restricted to the shaded areas or inside. We will also be having Zooper Dooper ice blocks available for 50c each as of next week.

We have had our first sighting of a snake in the school grounds and I urge all visitors to our school to be cautious when on school grounds and to be wary of our wriggly friends.

Bushfire season is upon us and it is vitally important that we all have a Bushfire management and evacuation plan established. Remember that failure to plan is planning for failure. Our immediate school evacuation point is the grassed playground followed by Bongongo Station or Gundagai Public School, depending on the direction of the threat. With methods of communication in our area being quite limited it is important that we stay regularly informed through radio updates and working together to pass on the message in times of danger.

On a more positive note, our annual presentation night is gearing up again with Mrs K and Mrs Lott firing up the students for yet another hilarious show and I am doing my best to keep up! It would be great to see you all there once again for a laugh and a catch up. Presentation night will be held on Thursday 10th December 2015 at 6pm. Please bring a food platter along to help celebrate the occasion. We look forward to seeing you there.

Our student of the week this week is Sam Graham. Sam has been an amazing role model this year for our younger students and a proud leader of our school. He will be an asset to his new high school next year and I can't wait to hear of all his achievements as he makes his way through his secondary education. Well done Sam!

Have a great week everyone!

Brad

The Boy Who Loved Kites

Once there was a boy who loved kites. His dad made them and everyone loved them, but everyone had to pay. There was a boy who was poor. He checked his money, he only had five cents.

He went to the shop. He tried to steal the kite. In the night the other boy caught him. "What are you doing?" he said. The boy told him the truth and the other boy gave him a kite and they became friends.

P&C News

A successful meeting was held last Friday with presentation night, swim camp and the 2016 calendar on the agenda.

All parents are reminded to prepare a platter to share for presentation night.

All parents are advised that the next P&C meeting to be held on Monday 8th February 2016, will be the Annual General Meeting. All positions will be open.

Don't forget your books for Presentation Night.
